

*“Today’s little moments,
become tomorrow’s precious memories.”*

YOUR BABY WILL CHANGE SO MUCH IN THE FIRST YEAR OF THEIR LIFE

Your baby’s first year will be filled with so many changes and so much joy. There are so many firsts; their first smiles, their first time rolling over, their first time sitting up. So many beautiful moments, and you need to capture it. Many of these moments happen so quickly that often times our phones are the most convenient tool to capture them.

Photographing your babies at some of their biggest milestones in my studio is such a honor and a true joy. But as a mother I know there are so many in between treasured moments that need to be captured. Documenting these moments with your phone is a great way to show their true personalities and the everyday memories you don’t want to forget.

TIPS FOR CAPTURING YOUR BABY AT HOME

Find beautiful light / Use a window with indirect light to light your baby's face

Use your phone's tools / Smart phones are typically made so you can touch the screen to focus on baby and adjust the exposure

Turn off your flash / If using some great window light a flash won't be necessary and can be unflattering

Create a simple set up / Use your beautiful home as your backdrop or pull some items around home to create a simple set. Find a simple neutral color blanket and pillows. Remember to keep it simple so the focus remains on your baby.

Pick the perfect time / Babies are typically well rested and happiest in the morning. Plan to capture your baby during their happiest time

Get in Close / Get down low and to their level, so you can capture every bit of their perfect features. And be sure to come in close so you can capture all the details.

Be Present / Take turns with your significant other to interact with your baby and capture those moments. Your child will cherish these images as they grow older.

Share your images / Upload your images to social media to share with friends and family. And don't forget to use #missyourbabyfaces and #babyfacephotographyomaha, because we miss your babies! ♡

Print and Backup / Caring for your images is the best thing you can do. Printing and backing up your images ensures you have them forever

